ESTATE PLANNING WORKSHEET

Married Couples

Information provided is held in complete confidence, and is used for the sole purpose of analyzing estate planning needs and designing estate planning documents. Preparation of this worksheet is not mandatory prior to the initial appointment with us, but if we are able to review the completed worksheet prior to your appointment, more information and value will be received during the 30-minute complimentary initial consultation.

We offer a free No-obligation, 30-minute consultation

During the initial appointment, we will determine your specific estate planning needs and goals. The potential cost of probate and tax which would occur with your current plan will be analyzed, and methods of reducing costs and accomplishing goals will be discussed. An exact quote on fees for estate planning will be provided before you decide to authorize completion of your estate plan.

Estate Planning Worksheet

The information requested on this worksheet may seem like none of our business, but it is very important that an estate planner understands your present situation and your wishes for the future. This information enables us to plan the estate to accomplish future goals and to save on taxes and administrative expenses.

If all information on this worksheet is identical for you and your spouse complete only one worksheet. If information for each spouse differs, make a copy of this worksheet so each of you has a separate one.

1.	Personal Representative. The will should name a personal representative to probate the estate. (Person representative is also sometimes referred to as executor or administrator.) (e.g., spouse as primary person representative, with a child, relative, friend, or corporate trustee as alternate. In situations where there a children by a previous relationship, spouse as primary personal representative may not be appropriate.)

2.	Successor Trustee. If you choose to avoid probate of your estate by executing a living trust during lifetime, a successor trustee should be named. The successor trustee would be responsible for managing assets if you were unable, or in the case of a joint trust, if neither you nor your spouse were able to manage assets due to incompetence. The successor trustee would distribute assets to beneficiaries after death, or in a joint trust, when neither you nor your spouse survives.

Plan of Distribution

1.	Specific Gifts. Do you want to make charitable gifts, such as to a house of worship or other institution? Do you wish to make a special gift to a particular person, such as a piece of jewelry to a particular child?
2.	Briefly describe the plan of distribution for assets remaining after any specific gifts described above are made. (Don't worry about tax planning or other considerations in answering this question. We'll consider those details later if needed.)
	☐ All to spouse; then among children, and if a child didn't survive, the deceased child's share to the deceased child's children.
	☐ All to spouse, then equally among surviving children.
	All to spouse, then
	As follows:
3.	Ultimate Distribution. You might want to provide for the distribution of your property if neither you, your spouse, nor your children/other beneficiaries named above survive.
	ease complete this section only if you have minor beneficiaries or beneficiaries with sabilities.
1.	Guardian. If you have child(ren) or other beneficiary(ies) who are minors or who have special needs, you may need to appoint a guardian. The guardian is responsible for the day-to-day care of the child. It is a good idea to name an alternate guardian to act if your first choice cannot serve.

2.	Testamentary Trustee. You may need a trustee to manage assets for beneficiaries until they

2. Testamentary Trustee. You may need a trustee to manage assets for beneficiaries until they reach an age when you believe they should be capable of managing assets on their own. A trustee can keep the beneficiary's money invested wisely and use it for their education, support, etc., until they reach the age specified for outright distribution of assets to them. The trustee can be a relative, friend, trust company, or other person or institution you trust to manage and distribute assets according to your wishes. The testamentary trustee can be the same person named as the guardian, or could be a different person or institution.

3.	Age of Distribution. If you do establish a trust to allow a third party to manage assets for beneficiaries, then it is necessary for you to decide when the beneficiaries will be mature enough to manage assets on their own. You may want to give each beneficiary his or her share at the time the beneficiary reaches a particular age. You may consider splitting the distribution, such as ½ at age 25 and the balance at age 30, or 1/3 at 21, 1/3 at 25, and 1/3 at 35. You may use any age or combination of ages that you choose.
